

New to the technical all-around category is a lace shoe we call the Luchador. It is built off a slightly cambered last with a semi-asymmetrical toe profile that allows for great control on small edges and the lace closure gives a customized fit. Its new non-shifting tongue system also offers padding along the outside of the shoe when stuffed into cracks.

- Synthetic upper with unlined leather footbed and arch
- Lace-up for maximum control
- New elastic tongue system reduces bulk and bind while being more breathable
- Tensioned rands for power and performance
